Lunar New Year

Bayside Council will usher in the Year of the Dog with a Lunar New Year celebration and Night Noodle Market at Dacey Gardens, Daceyville on Saturday 17 February.

“Lunar New Year is a highlight on our festive calendar. The Asian community forms an integral part of the Bayside Council and this celebration provides residents and visitors an opportunity to experience the beauty of Asian music, dance, and culture,” Mayor Bill Saravinovski said.

The popular Night Noodle Market will feature Chinese and Asian cuisine from many local businesses.

Entertainment will include traditional musicians and singers as well as lion dances, the God of Fortune, lucky wishes writing, lantern making, origami and activities for kids.

It will also be an opportunity for residents to meet Bayside Mayor Bill Saravinovski and the Local Member for Heffron Ron Hoenig.

Bayside Council is grateful for the help provided by Confucius Institute at UNSW Australia in producing this event, and for the generous sponsorship by University NSW Sydney.
