

Bushcare Program

Conserving and Protecting Our Local Bushland

Would you like to help your local environment?

Bushcare volunteers are essential to the care of Bayside Council's bushland. They make a real difference in improving the health and diversity of the environment.

What is Bushcare?

Volunteers working together to protect natural areas through the use of bush regeneration techniques and practices.

Bushcare volunteers can undertake a wide variety of activities including:

- ❁ Plant identification
- ❁ Woody weed removal
- ❁ Hand weeding
- ❁ Track maintenance
- ❁ Propagating local native plants
- ❁ Site assessment and monitoring
- ❁ Fauna observations
- ❁ Onsite training

Participants:

- ❁ Learn about flora and fauna
- ❁ Make new friends
- ❁ Are part of a group with common goals and interests
- ❁ Increase their knowledge of the local environment
