Bayside welcomes Lunar New Year

Bayside Council will usher in the Year of the Pig with a Lunar New Year celebration including food stalls serving traditional dishes at Dacey Gardens, Daceyville on Saturday 9 February.

“The Asian community forms an integral part of the Bayside Council and this celebration provides residents and visitors an opportunity to experience the beauty of Asian music, dance, and culture,” Mayor Bill Saravinovski said.

Entertainment will include traditional musicians and singers as well as lion dances, the God of Fortune and activities for kids.

It will also be an opportunity for residents to meet Bayside Mayor Bill Saravinovski and other Councillors.

Bayside Council is grateful for the help provided by Confucius Institute at UNSW Australia in producing this event and for the generous sponsorship by University NSW Sydney.
