Ramadan Food Fare

This year the flavours of Ramadan are coming to Bayside.

Travel the culinary hotspots of the world when Sydney's newest night-market kicks off in Walz Street, Rockdale on Saturday 11 May.

"Ramadan at Bayside is a community Iftar — to break the day's Ramadan fast — and the chance to share the hospitality and food of our multicultural community during this special month. It promises to be a delicious event showcasing the halal food of our diverse community," Mayor Bill Saravinovski said.

Run over four Saturdays during Ramadan this family-friendly night food market will be an opportunity for the whole community to share the spirit of Ramadan.

There will also be a jumping castle, play centre and face painting to keep the kid's occupied.
