

Apply for a Parking Permit

If you are a resident in an area with time restricted parking, you may be eligible for a permit that will legally enable you to exceed the time limit. We offer Resident Parking Schemes in designated areas. We are working towards providing an online application form, however currently a paper application form (<https://www.bayside.nsw.gov.au/sites/default/files/2020-07/Resident Parking Permit Application.pdf>) still needs to be completed.

Resident parking permits

Resident parking permits are issued to eligible residents that live within a property located in a designated resident parking scheme (RPS). Visitor permits can be used by people who are visiting the property. An application form (<https://www.bayside.nsw.gov.au/sites/default/files/2020-07/Resident Parking Permit Application.pdf>) needs to be completed and payment can be made at our Eastgardens or Rockdale Customer Service Centres.

Permits exclude eligible residents and visitors, from parking time limits in designated parking spaces where the signage includes the words 'permit holders excepted'. A parking permit does not exempt the vehicle from general road rules and signs such as 'no parking' and it does not guarantee the availability of a parking space.

Resident Parking Permits are issued annually and expire on 31 August each year. If you require an annual permit after 1 January, you will be charged 50% of the permit fee. A Visitor Parking Permit is valid for 24 hours.

You ~~do~~ ^{may} not require a resident parking permit if you hold a current NSW Mobility Parking Scheme Permit or an Australian Disability Parking Permit. Please refer to the parking concessions here (link to TfNSW website)

If you would like to confirm any of the following;

- If you live in a resident parking area OR
- What resident parking scheme zone are you a part of OR
- What streets are a part of your resident parking scheme zone and allowed to park in with exemptions from timed parking restrictions using your permit

- you can use our online mapping system

(<https://maps.bayside.nsw.gov.au/Intramaps98/?module=Property>).

You'll need to accept the online maps terms and conditions and then select the parking scheme filter on the left hand side.
