

Bayside Council Community Event Noticeboard

Terms and Conditions

Bayside Council's Community Event Noticeboard allows community groups to promote their events happening within the Bayside Local Government Area.

By submitting a notice, you agree to the following terms and conditions.

Authority

- You may submit a notice if you are an authorised representative of the event organiser and you are aged over 18.

Eligibility

- The event must:
 - take place at a location within the Bayside Local Government Area
 - be happening within two months
 - provide a benefit to the Bayside community, and be open to the general public
 - not be a promotion for a specific business, commercial enterprise or ongoing service or product
 - not be a promotion for any politicians or political parties
- The notice:
 - must specify the time, date and location of the event
 - may include photos, but you must have the permission of anyone appearing in the photo to include them
 - must not include any material (including text and images) the publication of which would infringe the intellectual property rights of any person who has not consented to you submitting the notice
- You may also submit a notice for an online event if you or your community group has a registered address within the Bayside Local Government Area.

Assessment of Notices

- Bayside Council:
 - will assess notices for compliance with these Terms and Conditions
 - may edit or decline to publish any notice received
 - may remove a notice from the Noticeboard at any time at its discretion
 - may request more information from you before publishing a notice

Agreement by you and event organiser

- By submitting a notice, you agree on behalf of the event organiser and on your own behalf that:
 - Bayside Council is not endorsing the content of the notice, the event or the event organiser
 - Bayside Council does not accept liability for any errors in the notice
 - the information in the notice will be publicly available for anyone to access
 - you will not receive any payment from Bayside Council
 - you indemnify Bayside Council against any claims that arise in respect of the notice or the event
 - you will review the notice after it is published on the Noticeboard
 - you will promptly inform Bayside Council if your event is cancelled or if you become aware of any errors in your published notice
 - you represent to Bayside Council that the event will be conducted in accordance with all applicable laws

Right to Appeal

You may request a review of a decision to decline to publish your notice. The request must be made in writing to the General Manager, and the review may be undertaken by the General Manager or another suitable staff member.

Updates

- These terms and conditions are subject to change.
